

Tell Your Story

The night you saw a loved one's spirit by your bed. The phone call or song on the radio that you heard just as you were thinking of that certain someone. The outstretched hand just when you needed it the most. The friend, mentor, or family member that lived in joyful service or always gave unconditionally. The answered prayer, healing, or miracle large or small. The life saved when it was unexpected. The dream achieved or triumph against all odds.

Your untold story may uplift the heavy heart of another, encourage someone to continue when all else tells him or her otherwise, or provide the hope that each may seek from time to time. Tell your spiritually based story of faith, love, or hope for others by contacting us at Trinda.net. Sharing your story in this way is yet another avenue for us to meet and make a connection.

"My mom and I were having tea one afternoon, when..."

E-mail and view your story at:
<http://www.Trinda.net>

.....
"I invite you to write of your own spiritual experiences and perceptions of them so that others may learn of the presence and power of Spirit in our lives, the many wonders of this human experience, and the true heart and soul of spiritual seekers today. Together, we can bring about positive changes in our world."
- - Trinda Latherow, author and spiritual speaker

My own story, PIECES OF THE PUZZLE, is a four volume nonfiction spiritual growth series, a quest for the truths to our existence. Along the way, I meet world-renowned psychics, scientists, authors, artists, spiritual leaders, gifted laypeople, and spiritual seekers from around the world. Together we explore the supernatural, our reality, and soulful connection to one another. For more information, visit <http://www.Trinda.net>. Thank you for both your interest and shared story.

Trinda Latherow has been writing and speaking of her experiences since 2005. - - sample writings